Take a closer look at the departments at BioZyme® that help drive the success of the company, day in and day out. Meet the Human Resources team who carries the Care that Comes Full Circle motto and creates new opportunities for BioZyme.

We asked a few questions to help spotlight the department. Here's what they shared:

1. What is the main role of your department and what are your key responsibilities?

- The main role of our department is to support BioZyme by managing all people-related processes and needs. Our key responsibilities include overseeing the full hiring process from recruitment to onboarding, managing benefits and payroll, planning events and employee engagement initiatives, leading employee development and training, ensuring compliance with legal and policy requirements, and navigating all people related needs or issues.

2. What does your team focus on most right now?

- Our team is focused on starting 2026 strong by wrapping up job accountability meetings, filling open positions, planning events and trainings for the year, and finding ways to increase employee engagement and participation. We're also building on successful initiatives from 2025 to drive more growth and engagement this year. Our team is determined to make 2026 our best year yet. As we embark on that journey, we're placing a strong focus on clear, consistent communication and working together across the organization to ensure we're aligned, informed, and moving forward as one team.

3. What is one recent win that you are proud of?

- One recent win we're especially proud of is the 2026 launch of our Rewards & Recognition program. This initiative helps us drive action, level up talent, and consistently show appreciation for the hard work of our employees throughout the year. Our team truly enjoys celebrating the successes and accomplishments across the organization, making recognition a meaningful part of our culture.
